TALES OF THE WOMEN. The Closing Day of the Suffrage Conven-

THE SUNDAY OPENING QUESTION CAUSES A DIS CUSSION-WHAT CONGRESSMEN WROTE IN RE-PLY TO A CIRCULAR-DISCUSSING PEDERAL SUFFRAGE-TONIGHT'S PROGRAM...

The concluding sessions of the Woman Suffrage Association began this morning. There was a larger crowd than has attended any previous meeting. The body of Metzerott Hall was not well filled, but a circle of attentive bills on that subject. listeners looked down from the galleries. For the first time there was just a little rift in the lute of the quiet and even discussions which have characterized this convention.

Miss Anthony presided as usual and had over her shoulders her little red shawl, which is such a familiar object to those who have known her longest. By the same token Miss Anthony grows brighter with every session, and her brief interpolations between the speeches and the speakers were wittier and more entertain-ing than ever today.

The first business before the convention was the reading of the minutes. Before they were finished by some abstruce reasoning the dele-gates had a full fiedged discussion a good deal shotter than the weather as to whether Congress had any business to legislate on the world's fair Sunday opening.

Mrs. Deidrick of Massachusetts, Mrs. Pickler of South Dakots, Mrs. Avery and Mr. Blackwell had something to say, some for and some against the resolution, and several offices were perfectly willing to be heard, only Rev. Anna Shaw mercilessly cut short the fun when half-past 11 arrived, and the usual program had to read. One Congressman replied: "I do not believe in women voting; not even widow women." Another wrote: "No, Susan, no." The report of the committee on federal suffrage was an able paper read by Clara Bewick Colby, Nebraska. The discussion which followed, led by Sara Winthrop Smith of Connecticut, was followed by remarks by Mr. Blackwell. Mrs. Colby, Mas Gillett, and Mrs. Virginia L. Minor of St. Louis, the plaintiff in the formous with Minor vacuus Henplaintiff in the famous suit, Minor or St. Louis, the plaintiff in the famous suit, Minor versus Happersatt. Mrs. Minor voted in St. Louis once, but she was obliged to prosecute the federal powers in her attempt to get it counted.

It finally went to the Supreme Courtand was decided adversely, but that has not dulled any of her determination to keep on trying.

of her determination to keep on trying.

If Senator Hill and Gov. Flower felt any particular thrill of satisfaction this morning it can be put down to the fact that the convention has voted them a resolution of thanks, because each of them in their annual messages have recom-mended the appointment of two women as delegates to the constitutional convention for 1894 in New York.

THIS AFTERNOON'S SESSION. The ression this afternoon was devoted to further discussion on the world's fair Sunday opening legislation, reports from state committees and Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery's splen-did report of the Columbian exposition committee. Among other things she recommends that a suffrage address shall be made every day

THE CLOSING SESSION. The program for the concluding session to night is as follows: An address-"Women in Industry," Mr. Carroll D. Wright, District of Columbia.

Address—"The Present Political Status of Woman," Harriet May Mills, New York.
Address—"The America Undiscovered by Co-

urging work in the Senate, &c. At the evening session a report giving the opinions of twenty one governors of the states and terri-tories was read by Mary H. Williams of Ne-braska. Only eight favored equal suffrage. Addresses were delivered by Carrie Lane Chapman of New York and Miss Yates of Maine. Mrs. Blynn of Catifornia recited a poem.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the session yesterday afternoon officers were elected as follows: President, Susan B. Anthony; vice president at large, Rev. Anna H. Shaw; corresponding secretary, Rachel Foster Avery; recording secretary, Alice Stone Blackwell, and auditors. Ellen B. Dietrick and May Wright Sewall. The resolutions adopted denounced the government for denying suffrage to women, tkanking Govs. Hill and Flower for their recognition of woman's suffrage, recommending sistants duly authorized to act for him. Sec. 16. That license for any of the purposes specified shall not be granted to any person to conduct such business within 400 feet of a public school house, except in such places of business as may have been located previous to the erection or occupation of such school house owned or occupied by the District of Columbia, measured between the nearest entrance to each by the shortest course of travel between such place of business and the exchool shoes among these samples, which are made by the most skilled workmen of the finest selection of stock, and any lady getting a pair of them saves from one to cities of Washington and Georgetown such applicant shall present such permission from a majority of the persons owning real estate and of residents keeping house within the space of 250 feet of the street or road on each side of the place where it is desired to locate such business and cities and continue business until license shall be granted or refused by the excise board, but in all cases of refusal to grant license such proportion of the refusal to grant license such proportion of the license fee as may have become due shall be deducted and retained from the sum on each side of the place where it is desired to locate such business, and within a similar space on the side of the street or road fronting opposite such place. A HEARING OF THE LIQUOR DEALERS. The House District committee this morning gave a short hearing upon the proposed liquor law presented last Monday by the liquor dealers as a compromise measure.

The bill has been slightly amended by the dealers and Mr. Davis pointed out the changes in the verbiage to the committee.

Mr. Hemphill read a letter from the collector shall be the duty of such excise board to revoke such licensee's license, but until conviction such licensee's license shall not be revoked or taken away from him.

Sec. 6. That under the license issued in accordance with this act no intoxicating liquors shall be sold, given or in any way disposed of to any minor or intoxicated person, or to an habitual drunkard as such, or between 12 o'clock midnight and 4 o'clock in the morning, during which last named hours and on

Mr. Hemphill read a letter from the collector of taxes, who is mentioned in the bill as a member of the proposed excise board. The collector says that the collection of taxes and the granting of licenses would occur at the same time and he cannot serve.

Mr. Magruder and Mr. Davis concurred in this statement, and Mr. Magruder added that the chief of police also objected to being a member of the board.

It was suggested that as the revenues of the District would be largely increased by the bill a salaried board of citizens might be provided to be appointed by the President.

It was agreed, however, that any proposition looking to an increase of salaried officials would be opposed by the appropriations committee.

It lies of this prescription is intoxicating liquors are sold shall be kept closed and no intoxicating liquor sold: Provided, That the keeper of any hotel or tavern having a license under this act may sell intoxicating liquors to bona fide registered guests in their hotel or tavern at the meals, or in the recome of such guests: And provided

In lieu of this proposition it was suggested that the Commissioners might appoint three officials of the District government to constitute the board. At this point the hearing closed, and the committee proceeded with the consideration of the bill. fide entertainment of any society, club or cor-poration sell intoxicating liquors between such hours as the board aforesaid may designate in said permit.

THE CHOCTAW CLAIMS.

An Act Approved Today That Will Take $3,000,000 From the Treasury. The President today approved the joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to cover back into the treasury $48,800 of the appropriation to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians. This action involves much more than appears on the surface. It implies the payment out of the treasury of a sum amounting to over $2,900,000 for lands taken by the United States from the Choctaw and Cherokee Indians and ap-choctaw and Cherokee Indians and applied to reservation uses for other tribes. An appropriation of this amount was made by the Fifty-first Congress, but the approval of the necessary papers was withheld by the President, who sent a special message to the Senate calling attention to some alleged defects of title as to part of the lands, and to excessive fees allowed to attorneys and claim agents by the Indians. The ale, wine or beer to any person or persons, nor permit the playing of pool or billiards or other games in the room where such liquors are sold; provided, that the excise board may, in its discretion, permit the playing of such games, except cards, in such duly licensed places as in its judgment advisable.

The President at this session sent an additional message to Congress making the point that the amount appropriated was $48,806 in excess of the actual amount due. This last objection has been met by the passage of the bill today approved, and there appear now no further obstacles to the payment of the Chootaw and Chickasaw claim, though, of course, the depletion of the treasury to the amount of nearly tion of the treasury to the amount of nearly $3,000,000 is a serious matter under existing

No meeting of the Senate committee on brary to whom was referred the bill for the es ablishment of a free circulating library in the post office for the use of citiof the District has yet been fixed. It is known, however, that individually the members of that committee are in favor of the bill and will do what they are in favor of the bill and will do what they can to bring about the passage of the measure in one form or another. The advocates of the bill were very much surprised at the opposition that was developed when it was recently before the Senate for consideration. Most of the members of the Senate are in favor of the library, but some are opposed to its location in the new post office building, while others do not concur in the idea of having it founded by taking the books from the libraries of the various departments. The members of the library committee are now trying to formulate some plan that will overcome the objections to the bill that now exists.

Assistant Secretary Grant says that the fact that these Indians want to get out of the army should not be accepted as an indication that the recently tried experiment of enlisting them in the service is in any degree a failure, for the simple reason that it is customary for every man, white, black or red, who enlists to show dissatisfaction at the restraints and discipline of army life at some period of his service. It invariably happens that the soldier becomes im-bued with the idea that he made a mistake in eninmates who return drunk from the city and tering the army and that be could do much better the number of those who sell ligner to them. usually last very long, and he generally becomes fully reconciled to his place.
